

Juan B Gonzalez

Loyola Behavioral Lab
Universidad Loyola Andalucía (ULA)
41704, Seville, Spain

Phone: (+34) 673 552 209
Email: juanbgonzalezblanco@gmail.com
GitHub — LinkedIn

Education

- 2016-2021 B.A. in International Relations, ULA, Seville (Spain). Average: 9.6 out of 10.
2016-2020 B.Sc. in Economics, ULA, Seville (Spain). Average: 9.7 out of 10.

Experience

- 2020-2021 RA, Loyola Behavioral Lab. On: Design of a new multidimensional poverty index for Central American Bank, BCIE (with Pablo Brañas).
2020 Assistant Lecturer, ULA. Course: Methods for International Relations Analysis (undergraduate). I taught the quantitative module.
2019-2020 RA, Department of International Relations, ULA. On: Climate change and communal violence in East Africa (with Alfonso Sanchez).
2018-2020 RA, Department of Economics, ULA. On: Framing effects and demographic differences in inequity aversion (with Pablo Brañas).

Awards and scholarships

- 2017-2020 4 Awards for Academic Excellence, ULA — Awarded to top 25 students.
2019 Erasmus + Scholarship, University Kore Enna (Italy).
2019 ETEA Scholarship, ETEA Foundation for Development, Tangier (Morocco).

Publications

- 2021 A. Sanchez, A. Fernandez, J. González. (Forthcoming) Are regions with national parks hotspots for communal violence? Rainfall anomalies, national parks, and communal violence in East Africa. Political Geography.

Additional courses

- 2021 Data Science for Economists, PhD course, University of Oregon (USA).
2020 Behavioral Economics for Public Policy, Inter-American Development Bank (USA).

Other information

Languages Spanish (Native), English (C2), French (Intermediate)
Computer skills R, Stata, VOSviewer, L^AT_EX
GRE Scores Quantitative: 168. Verbal: 168. Analytical Writing: 5.

References

Pablo Brañas, Prof. of Behavioral Economics (ULA) & Loyola Behavioral Lab Director.
Contact: branasgarza@gmail.com.
Alfonso Sanchez, Prof. of International Relations (ULA). Contact: asanchezc@uloyola.es